PROJECTS

- Class Scheduler using AI

April '22

A class/timetable scheduler made using the Genetic Algorithm. This application schedules different classes according to the time and subjects given by the user. It will show a timetable according to the time, class and the teacher.

- Email Spoofing Detection at the server

August '22

This application marks and blocks the spoofed emails that are coming to a users email id. It is compatible for both in-organizational and personal accounts. The spoofed emails will be blocked the server itself before they enter the user's inbox.

- Universal GANs

December '22

How AI sees the universe. This application generates images which has never been seen before using Generative Adversarial Networks. AI model generated images of different galaxies, planets and then they are combined to form the whole universe.

- StegMed

May'23

An end-to-end project that hides a medical report and its data. Medical data is sensitive, and using steganography, watermarking, and cryptography offers a secure method to transfer documents.

EDUCATION

- BTech (CSE, 2020-continuing)

Jaypee University of Engineering and Technology, Guna
